County officials will receive pay raises as high as 21.7 percent, as of January 1, according to a salary schedule approved by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners at a special meeting held December 22.

According to County records, most salaried employees and officials have received no pay raises within the last four years because of lack of funds. The approved schedule is:

• Clerk/Register of Deeds - from $35,010 to $41,000, or more than 17%;

- County Controller from $37,500 to $39,000, or 4%;
- Equalization Director from $28,432 to $34,600, or nearly 22%;
- Assistant Prosecutor from $43,264 to $24,960, or 4%;

- Prosecutor's Confidential Secretary from $20,020 to $22,500, or more than
- · Assistant Prosecutor's Secretary from $13,473 to $15,000, or more than 11%;
- Building Inspector from $35,000 to $36,400, or 4%;
- Zoning Inspector from $24,000 to
- 4-H Coordinator from $10.35 to $10.75 per hour, or nearly 4%:
- MIS Coordinator from $6,500 to $7,350, or more than 13%;
- Maintenance Department Head from $21,500 to $23,200, or nearly 8%;
- Sheriff from $35,010 to $41,000, or more than 17%:
- Undersheriff from $32,888 to $39,000, or more than 18.5%;
- · Sheriff's Confidential Secretary from $21,218 to $23,640, or more than 11%;
- Emergency Management Director/911 Dispatch - from $27,000 to $30,400, or more than 12.5%;
- Environmental Monitoring Official from $28,000 to $30,000, or more than 7%.

The Crawford AuSable Schools' Board of Education is preparing to take final steps needed to place not one, but two high school improvement bond issues on the next school election ballot.

At the Board's most recent meeting December 20, they agreed to the June 12 election date, saving the district's taxpayers about $3,500 in balloting costs had they voted for a separate ballot on March 22.

The board has applied to the Michigan Department of Treasury to present two proposals this summer. Proposal I will pay for additions and renovations at Grayling High School, which opened in complete replacement of the heating, ventilation and air conditioning system. Annual maintenance and repairs to the existing system has cost the district an average of $45,000 for the past few years. The addition of five classrooms and renovation of existing classrooms to meet the needs of current curriculum will also be accomplished if the issue is passed.

The first proposal will include the gymnasium, including re-configu-

Also included in Proposal I will be the construction of a new cafeteria and kitchen, as well as more office space.

An assessment of 1.25 additional mills will be required of taxpayers if the $13,370,000 issue is approved by the voters.

Proposal II concerns additions and renovations to the school's ration of access points. This proposal will ask for $2,500,000 or a required additional half mil. School Board member Melvin

Nunn said the Board would like to see both proposals pass because the school is in need of space, upgrading and because of the many complaints regarding the heating system, "but, we need to start somewhere."

Nunn also said the Board has heard comments from many taxpayers that perhaps past proposals were too big, so the Board divided the proposal into two seemingly logical and feasible plans.

The Board expects to hear from the Department of Treasury within a month regarding approval of the bond issue, after which they will proceed accordingly.

Crawford County Sheriff David Lovely issued a written statement on December 27 to inform the general public of New Year's preparations made within his department and other agencies in case of Year 2000-related problems:

"As Sheriff, I have been through training, several meetings and discussions on the year 2000 changeover. It is my strong believe that we will not have any problem for the following reasons:

· • All county government computers have been upgraded as they relate to law enforcement and 911 Dispatch.

It's not too late for 'Bah' and 'Humbug'

SO Y2K is at hand, and we're them. Things would be different, thing anyway. about to move into 2000?

So what's the big deal?

Maybe at least a touch of "Bah" and a slight pinch of "Humbug" are in order to put the millennium in perspective.

For one thing, there's this drama about whether as a world we've technologied ourselves into oblivion -- or at least into some mighty uncomfortable times just ahead.

We've turned over to computers so much of our everyday life and living that if the technology can't handle a simple little thing like switching from a cycle ending 1999 into a cycle starting 2000, then we're all helpless.

Everything stops, unless the computers work all right.

Well, we survived before comput-but maybe the world would be better off -- at least for a little while -without all the technological frills that have become necessities.

There are bound to be glitches here and there, but it won't happen on a large scale (he said, hopefully).

No matter. We'll survive. A peck of "Bah" and a bushel of "Humbug" to those who insist we can't.

COMPUTER CONCERN pales beside the judgement that the world flirts with Armageddon .... that the end of the world is at hand.

The Bible says so. Or it's written in the stars. Or something.

Doomsday predictions are tied to numbers. We're approaching 2000, and that signals the end of everything. If that's true, then the Y2K ers and we can survive without computer problems don't mean a

But it's not true (he said, again hopefully).

The numbers in our calendar -- to which much of the end-of-the-world hype is related -- are artificial numbers in the first place.

Today's calendar is tied to the birth of Christ. Human beings devised the calendar, not the stars nor God nor anything more otherworldly than people of the times.

Millions alive today don't believe in Jesus Christ, or don't accept Him as truly God. To them, then, a calendar tied to the birth of Jesus Christ should make no difference. And to followers of some religions, the calendar which ordains the year 2000 is at hand makes no sense at all.

In fact, there is not even universal agreement about when Jesus Christ was born and when He died, so the modern calendar may be off three or five or 10 or 20 years, one way or another, even for those who believe that Jesus Christ is God.

As for the world ending: It will happen sometime, and a little bit of reverent awe never hurt anybody, and might even be a good thing these days.

But folks who predict the end of the world, just because the calendar says 2000, deserve another big serving of "Bah" and a second helping of "Humbug."

AS FOR ME, before New Year's Eve, I'm going to withdraw a bit of cash from the bank .... fill up the cars with gas ..... lay up a few groceries and enough batteries for all the flashlights and lamps which don't work ... and sit out a quiet New Year's Eve at home with the family.

Nothing terrible is going to happen at the stroke of midnight ..... but why take a chance?

THE PAPERS have been crammed for weeks with lists.

That's normal as a year ends. But now we have the end of the year, plus the end of the 10-year decade, the 100-year century and the 1,000vear millennium.

The media have not disappointed. We've had list after list.

I haven't read a single one with which I agree completely. It's all personal judgement, of course.

My biggest complaint is that these lists seem to be compiled by a bunch of 30-year-olds sitting around a table, talking to each other.

Oh, sure, they'll throw in a Mary Pickford or a Jim Thorpe every once in a while. But generally their lists are top-heavy with people and events from the last 20 or 30 years.

To most of us, history begins when we're born, or at least when memory begins.

Anything that happens before then is of small consequence.

Granted, these comments come from a person who has survived his allotted three-score-and-10 life span, and whose memory reaches back to the Depression Days of the

So maybe I'm entitled to pass on a bit of "Bah" and a dollop of "Humbug" every now and then. I'll try not to overdo it.

Is Pastor 'B' the voice of all local clergy?

To the editor.

Nearly every mainline seminary in the country is teaching its graduates to understand and appreciate the Bible without literalizing or mythicizing it as "the Word of God."

Few scholars would disagree with the more liberal understanding expressed by Bishop Shelby Spong who is willing to question the birth narratives and the resurrection and does not see this as a compromise to the essence of the teachings of

Robert Eisenman is professor of Middle East Religions and Archaeology and the Director of the Institute for the Study of Judeo-Christian Origins at California State University at Long Beach. He is also the Visiting Senior Member of Linacre College at Oxford University. After extensive research into the Dead Sea Scrolls, the Nag Hamadi Library and the Koran, he compared them with the Biblical accounts in the New Testament in a book titled. James the Brother of

In this book, Eisenman states, "The first ten of fifteen chapters of Acts are so imaginary as to contain almost no overtly historical material that one can entertain with any degree of certitude." In regard to the Gospels, he states that "...none of the facts of Jesus' life as they are normally represented (in the Gospels) fit readily into the history of this period."

This is not about bashing the Bible, it's about how we have used the Bible to bash people. Unfortunately, when we are willing to accept that the Bible is "God's immutable Word" it is a very short leap to assuming that how I interpret the Bible is also God's immutable It is a fact of history that the only existing representation of Christian thought used its understanding of the Word of God to torture people into confessions of heresy. The Bible has been used to support burning thousands of women and a few men accused of being witches. Scripture has been used to support the enslavement of people of color. It has been within the lifetime of my mother that women were granted the right to vote. The suppression of women for nearly 2,000 years was supported by the Christian church's understanding of the Bible.

Have we learned from these lessons? No! Today there are those who continue to use the Bible to homophobia. support their Someday, that too will pass.

Unfortunately, the residue of this homophobia that lingers in the minds of even moderate thinkers is that homosexual behavior is synonymous with immorality. Indeed, there are immoral persons whose sexual orientation is toward homosexuality. But, who can deny that there are as many heterosexuals that are immoral. In fact, statistics reveal that the percentage of predators who commit rape and child molestation are disproportionately heterosexuals. Homosexuality is an orientation with which one is born. Acting on one's sexual orientation in a mutually consenting, respectful and committed relationship is not immoral. Immorality is a choice where people are reduced as objects for one's gratification.

It is unfortunate, in my opinion, that the only voice representing the Christian religion consistently being heard in our community is the column "The Bible Speaks." Even though I am ordained I do not, at this stage in my religious life, regularly attend church. Yet, I consistently study religious and philosophical books and related material. including th Bible. It is this that provides me with a rich and stimulating inner life.

If I were required to assume that Pastor "B" represented the basic view of Christianity, I would be left with no choice but to reject that religion in its entirety. I feel it would be a grave disservice to myself and the human family to accept, and thus support, the hostile, bigoted and sectarian attitudes that lie thinly veiled behind a condescending, religiously-loving smile that cannot comprehend that putting your arm around persons who are viewed as potential converts is not the same as embracing diversity.

It might be refreshing to know that the religious community has many voices. Many of them are caring and sensitive. Most are sensible and responsible. Yet, other than a few letters to the editor, all but one of these voices is silent. I would like to know how other clergy view the task of the religious community in the 21st Century. It would be a service to our community to let those of us who choose to not attend worship know that religion has another side that can be sensible. compassionate and inclusive.

That's more than one animal a day, and we only received our federal non-profit status in February!

Next year, with the help of our friends, we will increase this total number. And, in five years, the amount of unwanted and homeless animals will be reduced in our region.

No longer will we receive word of an unwanted puppy left at a local business, an unwanted kitten so dehydrated its eyes cannot open, or a family pet being shot because he pursued an unspayed female tied to a stake in a backyard.

In 1993, I asked Derek and Denise McEvers for a tangible commitment to purchase the funeral home from them upon their retirement. They offered to us a letter proposing a right of first refusal. Naively, we didn't press the issue or ask for the right of first refusal. We thought that, as their retirement neared, they would be more willing to discuss and negotiate more specific terms. We trusted in our friendship and working relationship, that when the time was right for them, they would initiate the discussion.

However, when that time came, we were not made aware of it or of the fact that the funeral home was up for sale. We had no knowledge of it being sold until a few weeks before the final papers were to be signed.

Hidden Fats in Foods

Question: I tried to reduce the amount of fat I consume each day by cutting back on meat and counting fat grams in other foods. I was shocked to find out that I was still consuming a large amount of fat. Isn't meat the main source of fat in our diets? How can I cut down on fat consumption in other foods?

Signed: Fat conscious friend

Answer: Actually, meat is not the only major source of fat in the American diet. In a typical diet, meats, fish and poultry contribute about 34% of the fat we consume. Another 15% comes from eggs and dairy products. However, a whopping 44% or the majority of the fat we consume comes from vegetable oils, shortening, butter or mar-

Many of these fat calorie are hidden in snack foods, salad dressings, desserts, casseroles, packaged foods,etc. The trick is to read labels carefully to determine just how much fat you are eating.

Often, one of the best ways to consume less fat is to substitute other foods for ones you typically eat. For example:

- Instead of your morning crois-save ten grams of fat.

- Instead of a whole egg in an omelet, eat just the white. This will save six grams of fat.

- Substitute one ounce of plain air popped pop corn for one ounce of corn chips. This will save nine grams of fat.

- Eating one cup of sorbet rather than one cup of premium ice cream. This will save 24 grams of fat.

- Rather than one ounce of oil roasted peanuts, try one ounce roasted chestnuts to save 13 grams

- Substitute a two ounce slice of angel food cake for a glazed donut to save another 13 grams of fat.

Learning to substitute foods can be a big help in cutting down on fats in the diet. The American Heart Association and American Cancer Society recommend that only 30% of all calories consumed each day should come from fats. In addition, learn to recognize what foods can contain hidden fats. Here are just a few examples of healthy sounding foods where hidden fats may reside:

- packaged rice and potato dishes - stuffing mixes
- frozen vegetables in cream or
- butter sauces - canned gravy
- crackers
- microwave popcorn
- granola bars - toaster snacks and pastries
- flavored coffee mixes

There are many other innocent sounding sources of dietary fat. The trick is to learn to read food labels whenever you purchase a product. If more than 30% of the calories comes from fat, this item is high in fat and should be eaten in limited

The Bible Speaks

Y2K is Here!

We wrote you about Y2K a year ago. We repeat part of a paragraph from that article: "There are doomsday groups urging people to stockpile weapons, food, energy sources, clothing, etc. There are other people laughing it off like some kind of a joke. Temperance and prudence are always wise counselors for times like this. Because of a (possible) rush on banks, grocery stores, gas stations, and other businesses, our worst danger could be a self-fulfilling prophecy promoted by last minute hoarding. Steps toward self-sufficiency for any emergency are always reasonable. A back up form of heating, lights. staple food supply, extra blankets, warm clothing and access to fresh water are always prudent. This does not require as much money as common sense and good judgment." Wise people living through the storms of northern Michigan have already learned how to prepare for bad winters.

Will Jesus Christ return this weekend or this year? Only a fool would try to convince people of the date of Christ's return. Jesus Christ told His disciples in Acts 1:6.7 that no one except God knows the time of His return to establish His earthly kingdom on earth. Is there something we can or should do to help bring this to pass? No! The time is God's time. The work is God's work. "... The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this," (Isaiah 9:7) Only ignorant people would try to use terror or force to bring in God's kingdom. Bible believing people know better. All of us know by faith we are living in the last days before Christ returns, but no one knows the exact hour, day, week, or year.

Some who read their Bibles might ask, what does Matthew 24:3 and the response of Jesus Christ mean then? (Matthew 24:3) "And as he sat upon the Mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?" These were Jewish disciples requesting a sign of Christ's coming and of the end of the world. (1 Corinthians 1:22) "For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:" The signs Jesus Christ gives in this chapter will be fulfilled during the 7 years of tribulation before Jesus Christ returns to earth to rule and to reign for 1000 years from Jerusalem. This thousand year reign is specifically stated in Revelation

But we, living in this church age, will see a growing increase of these signs over the years before we are raptured to be with Christ. For example, We will see the growing deceptions of antichrists. (Matthew 24: 4.5) We will see the growing increase in national wars. (Matthew 24:6) We will see the growing increase in famines, pestilences, earthquakes, and violent storms. (Matthew 24: 7.8) We will see both Jews and Christians more persecuted. (Matthew 24:9) We will see a growth in hatred and violence. (Matthew 24:10) We will see an increase in false religious leaders. (Matthew 24:11) We will see sin and evil multiplied and love diminished. (Manhew 24:12) But the church will be raptured to be with Christ before the day of Matthew 24:21: "For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time. no. nor ever shall be." Only the unsaved and unbelievers need fear that day.

Foundation granted $3,200 to River House Shelter and Domestic Crisis Services for their building project. River House is planning to build a new shelter and transitional housing for victims of domestic violence in one of the four counties in its service, area, in partnership with Housing Michigan. Mercy Estimates put the cost of the entire project at near $1 million.

The shelter itself is predicted to cost about $600,000, if the River House staff can raise enough money to fulfill all of the space needs of the program. The transitional housing will be part of a second phase, since the new shelter is the most critical need. Marilyn Madison, Director of River House. stated that "Weverhaeuser's contribution to the early stages of this

As nations go, we are relatively young, but no longer a child nation or even an adolescent nation. America has passed through the stages of rebelling against the mother country, establishing itself as an autonomous entity, and becoming a world power commanding the respect of its peers.

Our leaders have tested this nation, discovering what its people will and will not tolerate. Morals have shifted back and forth and back again. Perhaps, as America comes of age in the twentyfirst century, our wise and experienced leaders are prepared to be guides in the journey to world peace. leaving inner rebellion behind and focusing upon the future of mankind

John F. Kennedy said, ...we must seek, above all, a world of peace; a world in which peoples dwell together in mutual respect and work together in mutual regard; a world where peace is not a mere interlude between wars. but an incentive to the creative energies of humanity."

Ross is currently the Lead Teacher for Grayling Head Start's center-based program.

CDA is the only national effort to improve child care by evaluation and recognizing the skills of individuals providing care. The first credential was awarded 20 years ago, and now 46 states plus the District of Columbia include CDA in their child care licensing regula-

Parents who use child care are especially concerned today about their children's welfare.

With this in mind, as part of the CDA assessment process, every candidate for the CDA credential is observed working with young children by an early childhood professional. In addition, the candidate must demonstrate the ability to work with families to develop children's physical and intellectual capabilities in a safe and healthy environment.

The CDA credential is having a positive effect on the quality of child care. Its impact is evident in center-based care as well as family child care, the most common form to care for children under five years

Snowshoe Center hosts Winter Trails 2000

Looking for a way to have fun in the snow? Well, you can take a hike on snowshoes. Michigan Snowshoe Center is hosting Winter Trails 2000 on Saturday, January 15, a day of snowshoeing for the entire family.

Winter Trails is sponsored by SnowSports Industries America (SIA) and the American Hiking Society (AHS) for the fourth consecutive winter.

winter driving...

The one-day event is geared country etiquette, how to dress, toward summer hikers, families, fitness walkers, school groups and youth organizations that are interested in learning more about the sport of snowshoeing.

New snowshoes from SIA member companies as well as clothing will be available for people participating in a Winter Trails day event. Programs and activities will include the basics on getting started, back

Winter Driving Tips

Winter is finally here and with it comes a whole different set of rules

• Use caution and common sense when driving in the winter. Vehicles

• Watch for scattered slippery spots, especially on overpasses, bridges

• Keep a shovel, warm blankets, bags of sand or cat litter in the trunk

• If your vehicle does become stuck and you are unable to free it, run the engine and heater for only short periods of time and with the window partially rolled down. Make sure the end of the exhaust pipe is

Make sure wiper blades and snow tires are in good condition prior

• Clear snow and ice from windows, mirrors, hood, roof, headlights,

•When applying the brakes on either snow or ice, avoid locking the brakes. This allows you to maintain steering control of the vehicle while obtaining maximum braking efficiency. On vehicles equipped with anti-lock brakes, do not pump the brake pedal -- apply steady pres-for safe driving. Take a few minutes to refresh your memory regarding picking the right shoes, winter safety, and children's activities.

In addition to the snowshoe demos, the day will include seminars on winter and camping safety. guided hikes and food. Rod Binford will be on-site to demonstrate the construction of stained glass artwork, using a snowshoe as the frame.

Winter Trails 2000 is modeled after AHS's National Trails Day, a day of local events designed to bring people to hiking trails as the guests of trail clubs and agencies. This year there will be 14 Winter Trails events across the country. Last winter, the events attracted 5,200 participants at 11 sites, a 49% increase over 1998.

"I think Winter Trails has been successful not only because the program is educational, fun and familyoriented, but also because snowshoeing is absolutely soaring in popularity," said David Lillard. president of American Hiking

"Snowshoeing is a great way to discover nature in winter and hiking clubs help everyone learn where the trails are," he said.

SIA is the national, non-profit. member-owned trade association of more than 800 competing snow sports product manufacturers, suppliers and distributors working together to promote and develop the snow sports industry. AHS is a national, non-profit organization dedicated to establishing, protecting and maintaining foot trails in America. American Hiking has 8,500 individual members and 125 affiliate organizations representing approximately 500,000 hik-

Beware of telemarketing scams

Once again, fraudulent telemarketers are trying to solicit money and they target the elderly, in particular.

The best way to protect yourself is to tell them that you do not pledge money over the phone, but that you would be happy to read their literature and decide if you want to donate to their cause. If they still pressure you to donate, hang up.

During a recent Monday morning assembly, Karla Goetz's yellow group sang and demonstrated the popular children's rhyme "The Itsy Bitsy Spider." The school children were adorned in spider hats they made earlier in their classroom. There motions demonstrated the perseverance of the spider. The presentation was given in keeping with this school year's theme at the AuSable Primary: PERSEVERANCE or I THINK I CAN! Shown above holding theme posters are Damien Darling, Jared Robbins, David Bergman and Erica Kasper.

A new Little Miss is in our midst

Peri Nicole Scheer of Grayling was named the winner of the Little Miss Hawaiian Tropic Pageant held in Traverse City on November 13.

Miss Scheer competed in the 13-23 month age group, modeling a swim suit and holiday wear.

Besides her new title, Miss Scheer also won the Most Photogenic and Best Personality Overall competition for all age groups, one through 16 years.

Next, Miss Scheer will compete at the Hawaiian Tropic State Pageant in April 2000. Winners of the state pageant are invited to compete in next summer's International Hawaiian Tropic Pageant.

Miss Scheer is the daughter of Brad and Charlene Scheer.

AuSable Canoe Marathon

Year 2000 will mark the 53rd running of the AuSable International Canoe Marathon. Drawing contestants from all over North America, the Marathon continues to grow in quality and in the number of faithful followers who enjoy watching many of the best paddlers in the world compete on the AuSable River.

1999 marked the eighth consecutive year of Weyerhaeuser title sponsorship of the Marathon.

'Weyerhaeuser has provided a level of support that allows Grayling to conduct an event that can be compared with races of this type anywhere in the world. We are extremely lucky to have their support and appreciate the intimate interest they take in the challenges we face in conducting a professional, safe, world class canoe marathon," said Steve Southard, marathon volunteer.

The entry roster for this year's event included out-of-state paddlers from the states of Wisconsin, Texas, Minnesota, and Iowa as well as several provinces of Canada. After the grueling race was finished it was the team of Canadian Serge Corbin, age 42, and Grayling resident Jeff Kolka, 40, that completed an unprecedented fourth consecutive win for the 120-mile event with a time of 14 hours 8 minutes and 8 seconds.

Long time favorite Al Widing Sr. and his partner Robert Bradford shattered the senior record with a time of 15 hours, 40 minutes and 19 seconds. This was Al Widing's 28th Marathon.

The Marathon by everyone's standard is an extremely tough event that can take the most experienced veteran and make them into a spectator early in the race. It is especially unkind to first time paddlers. Noteworthy among the first time entries for this years event was the female team of Lisa Salvini and Abby Kingman of Massachusetts, who came through the dark of the Mio Pond smartly in 44th place and finished top female team in Oscoda in 40th with a time of 16 hours, 46 minutes and 57 seconds.

Another first time team was the father son duo of Wade and Pete Binion from College Station, Texas. Pete celebrated his 50th birthday as he sprinted the five city block run to the river. They snuck past Mio with a time of 6 hours 31 minutes and 31 seconds and finished a solid 45th place in Oscoda just ahead of the team of Sean Munn and Bob Donaldson. The Binion's are "looking forward to another cool July in Michigan in

"We are really fortunate to have so many volunteers and sponsors that come together to make such a high quality world class event happen right here in our backyard," said Crystal Filley, this year's event Chairperson.

The Co-Chair for the 2000 event is Cheryl Lucey of Grayling.

The AuSable International Cance Marathon committee meets on the first Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the Grayling Mini-Mall. The marathon continues to be a volunteer effort and anyone willing to contribute is encouraged to attend the monthly meetings. The public is welcome.

Grayling Recreation Authority

(GRA) continued to grow throughout 1999 in participation, programs, and events.

The winter ski season at Hanson Hills went very well even though we didn't have a lot of natural snow. Thanks to our snow-making capability and the dedication of our staff, the ski season lasted through the middle of March.

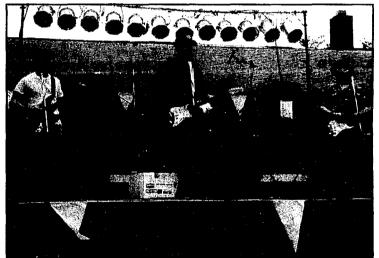

This year was the first season we had the technology to count our downhill skiers so that we can do a better job of planning for success in the future.

We are especially excited about the increase in popularity of our cross country ski operations, due to the new groomer and snowmobile grooming equipment and the dedication of Jason Snell, who is Grayling Recreation Authority responsible for grooming and maintenance of the cross country ski trails.

The Hanson Hills family ski package was a great promotion for us and a great deal for many farnilies who came and learned to ski with us.

GRA's biggest project of the year was the installation of new soccer fields and the irrigation system on our softball field outfield. GRA worked with Grayling Township, the Grayling Youth Booster Club, the Grayling Eagles Club, and the GRA Soccer Steering Committee to provide money for the project. The new soccer fields will accommodate the K-6 grade programs, which have approximately 150 participants two seasons a year.

Grayling Township

was a banner year for Grayling departments. Township government, and proved that Grayling Township will continue to be a leader in providing services to its residents well into the 21st century.

The continued success of the township environmental efforts in recycling, blight eradication, and general clean-up, were rewarded in February when the township was awarded the O.B. Eustis Environmental for environmental excellence in northern Michigan.

Those same programs were the later catalyst for the supervisor, Terry Wright, being named a recipient of the Hometown Leadership Award from the National Association of Towns and Townships. This award brought a $1,500 economic development grant from the Wal-Mart Corporation.

In the spring, the township began the long implementation of a geographic information system (GIS), to update the maps used in

This state-of-the-art computer system will make instantaneous, accurate map changes and allow for the retrieval and printing of selected information of any inclusive data.

The implementation is expected to be complete sometime in the spring of 2000.

A new face was added to the township board of trustees in June when Thomas Hall Jr. was appointed to complete the term of Melvin "Pat" Nunn, who went on to an elective position with the board of education. The other trustees include Wright, Monica Ashton, Ruth O'Mara, and Janice Annis

In July, the township signed an agreement with the Crawford County Sheriff's Department to fund a COPS-Fast grant, which put a police officer on the road dedicated only to Grayling Township. Since then, deputy Tim Coe has logged almost 1,000 hours hoods and meeting township resi-

The township building department is finishing its biggest year ever and building, electrical, plumbing and mechanical inspectors have been kept busy keeping up with another year of rapid growth.

In August, bids were let for a 1,040-square foot addition to the town hall meeting room. The addition was completed and the first meeting was held in early

The capacity for a township meeting went from 35 to 150. Best of all, on election days the township now won't have to clear out all the offices to locate voting booths for the six separate precincts, a process which wasted two working days.

Recent computer upgrades have guaranteed faster and more accurate information for local residents, and no problems with the Y2K transition.

Grayling Lions

Lionism means a history of service. Throughout the world and locally, this is demonstrated time and again. At the behest of Helen Keller in 1925, Lions began a worldwide "crusade against darkness" in support of the visually impaired.

Additionally, over the past 25 years, Lions have become involved in international youth programs; notably, to encourage youth to resist the use of drugs and alcohol.

Membership is open to men and women age 18 and older. Three Presidents of the United States have been members of the Lions Association: Ronald Reagan, Gerald Ford, and Jimmy Carter.

Over the past year, Grayling Lions have sponsored 15 eye exams and glasses for local residents. Likewise they have made donations to the Michigan Eye Bank for cornea transplants and eye disease research. Grayling Lions support for local school organizations include donations for Grayling Band Boosters, Project Graduation, All-State Band Candidates, and two scholarships for college-bound students: Kevin Jansen and

Stephanie Wichert. Donations for books to the Crawford County Library were made in 1999. Donations to Welcome Home for the blind, the Michigan Diabetes Association, Leader Dogs in Rochester, Michigan, and the collection of used eyeglasses for re-use in Central and South America, repremoney generated by Grayling Lions.

Other beneficiaries of Grayling Lions generosity include the Christian Help Center in Grayling, the Clinton Township Disaster Fund, in the aftermath of the tornado in Comins, and student class trips for participation in the Presidential Classroom seminar in Washington D.C.

Fundraising efforts have included the White Cane Drive last April, two lucky 13 raffles, and rattles for Glen's gift certificates.

The Grayling Lions also have provided white canes for visually impaired people, to enable them sent additional gifts of time and to get around.

Russel Shepard (left) of International Lions presents an award to Grayling Lions President Robert Prause for sponsoring 15 new members.

Beaver Creek Township

1999 has been another busy year for Beaver Creek, with completion of the Master Plan and formation of a Planning Commission. These steps were long overdue and necessary to insure positive growth in the community. As a result, we now have two new subdivisions in the works, and a mall is a realistic probability that will give new meaning to the term "shop local-

The Beaver Creek Community Reading Program has completed another successful year, with distributions nearing $450,000. This continues to be funded through Save-Share, ensuring residents of free, quality reading materials on a regular basis. Many of you selected materials for your personal use at the Annual Picnic, another fine event which brought many together for a day of merriment.

Ground breaking for the new Township offices has taken place at the Community Center. We hope to be moved in by late spring. The new structure will meet all the fire safety, document security, and handicap access needs of the Township, while at the same time bringing lower maintenance and utility prices.

While you're at the offices you may have noticed a new face, that of Trustee Gary Summers. Although new to the board, he is taking a very active part in managing your business. Gary was appointed after Trustee Ruth McDonough and her husband Bill moved into their new home in the Upper Peninsula. We wish them well on their relocation.

The Township Board is secure that we are going to meet Y2K needs with a minimum amount of confusion. Speaking of the year 2000, the census board is very busy preparing for the census which will take place in the spring.

Ensure that you will receive all the benefits to which you are entitled through your government by making sure all residents of your household are accurately counted.

2000 is also an election year in the Township -- register early -- get out and vote.

Camp Grayling Conservation Club

The Grayling Conservation Club is an association which encourages, promotes and educates the public in the proper use of fish, game and other natural resources and to foster true sportsmanship. Its other objective is to inform and educate the public, in the safe and authorized use of the lands contained within and around the Camp Grayling Military Reservation.

CGCC is going into its tenth

Rock-On-Into The

year and has 107 members. A good percentage of our members are from outside the Grayling area. Members volunteer their spirit and reflect their involvement with conservation and environmental issues of the Grayling area.

Members in the local area keep the club active in several events around the Grayling community and represent the club with the Michigan United Conservation Club. Their efforts provide several hundred individuals an opportunity to participate in events that allow them to enjoy the natural resources and outdoor sports the Grayling area has to offer.

On January 5, 1999, the club gathered for Bake On The Lake (Lake Margrethe), at the White House on Camp Grayling. El Nino kept the ice fishermen off the lake, so instead of fish filets we enjoyed grilled tube steaks. Members provided a dish to pass. New officers were elected: Ron Latuszek, president; Dennis Palmer, vice president; Gary McConnell, treasurer; and Rosemary Patrick, secretary.

The club meets the first Monday of each month. During the winter season, meetings are held at Camp Grayling, Building 12. April through November, meetings are held at the clubhouse.

One 1999 CGCC highlight was the Bird Contest Hatch held in April-May. The contest was open to all Grayling fourth graders. Birdhouse kits were cut out, bundled and distributed by members to the children with instructions. The students had to assemble the kit and find a place to mount the house so they could be checked for blue bird nests. The first student to report a bird hatch won a new bicycle. This was an exciting event for both the fourth graders and CGCC. Ninety-one fourth graders participated, and Monica Leslie was the contest winner.

Also in 1999, CGCC voted to financially support the Multi-Use Pathway Project, and Bernie Peters currently represents the club and Camp Grayling at the pathway committee meetings.

On July 22 CGCC sponsored a Kid's Fishing Contest during the AuSable Marathon Canoe Race, giving the kids a chance to tell grandpa they caught the biggest, smallest or even the most trout out of the AuSable. The contest was free and 45 kids participated. CGCC purchased and stocked 200 trout in the AuSable River, and Grayling businesses donated prizes and financial support.

Also during the marathon, CGCC sponsored the Business Canoe Relays, another great participant or spectator event that brings out the want-to-be marathon canoeists. One of these days CGCC will take the trophy...

In September the Club conducted a Hunter Safety Course for all individuals in the area. The class size ranged from 10 to 40 students. Dennis Palmer has done a great job for CGCC being the chief instructor for the past eight years.

In conjunction with the Grayling Rotary Club, CGCC subscribed the TRACKS news magazine for 174 Grayling fifth graders. TRACKS is published by MUCC and the subscription ran from September through May of the school year.

November 15 and 16 marks the last event for the club, the Orange Coat Round-Up/Buck Pole at Skip's Sport Shop. Ron Latuszek served as the honorable CGCC Buck Master. The club had Orange Coat buttons made and distributed them to local businesses for sale to all hunters, allowing them to participate in the Big Buck Contest at Skip's. Prizes were awarded to hunters harvesting buck deer.

The first day of the contest, 27 bucks were hung on the buck pole. The largest buck for the day was shot by Jim McMillan of Grayling. It weighed 145 pounds and had a rack measuring 96 inches. On the second day, Joe Accettola shot a 4X4, 140-pound buck, but it wasn't the largest...At 5:30 p.m. Matt Harwood, a 15-year-old from Grayling, delivered his trophy deer -- a 12-point, 180-pound buck, which won the grand prize.

CGCC closed out 1999 with a business meeting and dinner at the Gray Rock Restaurant.

Individuals interested in joining CGCC may contact Ron Latuszek at (517) 344-6153.

City of Grayling

1999 saw the retirement of both the City Manager of 27 years, Jerry Morford, and Chief of Police of 27 years, Pete Stephan. The process of selecting a new City Manager is well underway and the Chief of Police position has been filled with the appointment of Karl Schreiner.

The citizens also made new appointments to the City Council with the election of Dave Wyman, Brian Banda and Jerry Hayes. The new Council members replaced Mayor Ralph Stevens, who served the community for 8 years, Robert Golnick, who served 32 year, and Robert Ruddy, a councilman for 8 years.

Hard work and determination by both the previous administration and Council, and current Acting City Manager, Terry McGregor, along with the newly elected Council, have brought several civic improvements to the City of Grayling. The sidewalk plan for 1999 was completed with the addition of new sidewalks throughout the City. Improvements were made at the City's irrigation field. The City completed a preventive maintenance operation of the entire sewer system, and installed the much needed improvements to facilitate the longawaited removal of the exposed sewer pipe across the AuSable River.

Another improvement that has been anticipated for years was the widening and updating of the railroad crossing in front of the courthouse, which was finally brought to reality this past fall. Finally, the City concluded the contract negotiations with the city employees along with providing a new health insurance agreement that while including additional benefits to City Employees at the same time save the City a significant sum through the reduction of premium costs.

The new Council members will continue to have a very busy agenda while working through the process of hiring a City Manager. They will also be asked to approve a new lease agreement with the State Police Crime Lab. The lease negotiations are underway and options to relocate City Hall are being explored by the current administration.

There were some exciting changes within the City of Grayling this year, such as Marilyn Palmer's appointment as the first female Mayor of Grayling. Kay Ellen King was appointed City Clerk after serving a Deputy Clerk for 19 years. The Community Improvement Authority was formed after months of meetings and public hearings.

As we approach the new millennium we look forward to working with a renewed spirit of participation to keep Grayling the best place to work and play in Northern Michigan.

Grayling Eagles Aerie #3465

The Grayling Eagles Aerie #3465 has had another banner year. The national organization's motto is "People Helping People," and highly committed to this, the Aerie and Women's Auxiliary have worked hard to make "helping" their main priority. Whether it is donations of time or monies, the helping spreads from organizations and people in our community to the state and nation. The responsibility and hard work for such events as the Canoe Marathon Ox Roast, the biwomen, and all proceeds are earmarked to help specific community and national endeavors.

Locally, for our schools this year donations were made to Project Graduation, the middle school and high school bands to help finance trips, and numerous teams for trips and equipment. The Aerie provided the down payment for a rescue sled for the Sheriff's Department, sponsored one of the Marathon Canoe Teams, and helped provide funds for the Grayling Recreation Authority, weekly Bingo and charity games, Hospice, the Christian Help and the monthly Fish Fry Dinners Center, and Santa's Breakfast, to are shared by the men and name a few.

The women have donated to River House, the Crawford AuSable Thanksgiving Dinner, the Crawford County Library, the County Fair, in addition to providing all of the funds for a special neo-natal and child development program scale for Mercy Hospital. These are only a few of the Aerie's gifts to people and places.

Fund raising dinners were held for Emily Grosskopf and Jim Wilke. Also, who could forget the work of the "shelter shiners" for River House, the road clean-up crew, and the prize-winning float in the Marathon Parade.

Statewide and nationally, funds are distributed to most of the large charitable organizations such as diabetes, the Kidney Foundation, and Alzheimers. This year, nationwide, the Eagles are hoping to raise a record one million for the Jimmy Durante Children's Fund to fight child abuse.

All in all, for a social/service organization, the Eagles have proven in 1999 that their commitment to "People Helping People" has made them a vital part of the Grayling Community, and a group that can be counsed on to lend a hand, give muncial support, and sometimes even make dreams come true.

Commission on Aging

County Commission on Aging (COA) Senior Center operates a multipurpose, walk-in center at 308 Lawndale Avenue in the city limits of Grayling. The center offers the senior citizens of Crawford County, who are 60 years and over or have a spouse 60 and over.

The center, which offers a vast number of activities and services, has been helping the seniors of Crawford County since April 10,

One of the many services offered is the nutrition program. The center has two different meals program that provides a nutritious and balanced meal for the day. The congregate meal program gives the seniors a chance to have an exchange of conversation with their friends and neighbors. and meet new people. Above all, it gets them out of the house.

The other meal program is the home-delivered meals. This is offered for those seniors who are unable to prepare their own meals. Between both of these programs the center served 53,911 meals in fiscal year '98-99.

COA's in-home services (homemaking, personal care and respite) are offered for seniors who are not able to keep up their surroundings. At the end of our fiscal year '98-99 COA provided 7.785 hours of service. There are many more services that the center offers to seniors. With them, it is possible for seniors to stay in their own homes much longer.

Also at the center this past year, the center has hosted many different activities, including special dinners, card clubs, pantry bingo, and outings, in addition to "just being there" for seniors.

The seniors and the staff working as a team were able to purchase a soft ice cream machine this year through fundraisers and

One problem COA is trying to overcome is getting the word out to all the seniors in Crawford County that the services and the center are for all seniors in the county All seniors in Crawford County are welcome to visit the center.

Ninety-three gifts were given to the Christian Help Center from COA's Christmas Tree for Kids.

Chamber of Commerce

After approximately 50 years in existence, the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce had a very interesting year. By being involved in committees throughout the year, the Chamber maintained an active role in promoting Crawford County as a place to live, place to visit, and a place to do business.

In January, the $10,000 Chamber Challenge Raffle took place at the Holiday Inn. Awards are given that night for Citizen of the Year, Athena Award, and Silver Lining. The Athena Award is given to a citizen who has shown exemplary contributions to the community, has mentored young women, and is a business owner or manager. The Silver Lining award goes to a member building owner who made significant exterior improvements to their business location.

The Michigan Department of Transportation coordinated a public meeting with the Chamber in February to hear public comments about making North Down River Road at I-75 a full interchange. A second public meeting is scheduled to take place sometime in cess.

In April thoughts start turning to summer events and the busy season. By then work had started on the last full weekend in July when the AuSable River Festival takes place. The Chamber of Commerce sponsors the Arts and Crafts show held in the City Park. Nearly 150 crafters and artisans display their wonderful talents in this event. Along with that show, the Chamber assists in coordinating the other activities surrounding the Festival. The weather played a role in activities on Friday as one of the only rainstorms of the summer came blowing through.

In October, the Chamber Board of Directors held their annual strategic planning session. The Board is committed to planning, leadership, credibility, networking, marketing, visibility, community awareness, tourism, education, quality, prosperity and suc-

Staff from the Chamber, along with the Visitors Council attended the Novi Snowmobile Show in November. Information on Grayling was distributed to thousands of attendees. Also in November, Chamber staff and members along with representatives from the public sector spent a day in Lansing lobbying on land use issues. Several legislators' offices were visited.

The ad sales for the official county road map project were complet-. ed in December. The project is a joint effort of the Chamber with the cooperation of the Road Commission for Crawford County. The new map should be delivered in the spring. Ten thousand copies will be distributed throughout the community and to visitors to our

Help Center

Crawford County Community Christian Help Center has had a busy year. We have especially enjoyed being in our building.

In the spring, we distributed Easter Basket Fixin's in cooperation with Kiwanis.

During June, July and August we supplied lunch bags for the children who receive reduced or free lunch during the school year. This program was expanded from other years and we served 120 children twice a month with nutritious lunch ingredients.

In late August we were asked by Strong Families/Safe Children to distribute school supplies to any of the lunch bag recipients who needed them.

The Help Center has recently been involved in its Christmas project, the center's seventh Christmas. Over 100 families were served with Christmas dinner fixins and toys supplied through Toys for Tots collections.

The center has also arranged for 20 families to be adopted.

During 1999, the Help Center has received wonderful support from the community.

We cannot operate without this support, financial as well as moral support.

Hartwick Pines State Park

1999 was a busy year at Hartwick Pines State Park and the Logging Museum. 216,278 people visited Michigan's fifth largest State Park and saw a variety of programs about the natural and cultural history of Michigan.

The Friends of Hartwick Pines hosted the annual Woodshaving Days and Black Iron Days festivals, which continue to be popular with visitors

Two new festivals grew substantially this year. Maple Syrup Day in March attracted over 1,000 people for tours of a sugarbush and demonstrations of maple syrup

The second annual Forest Fest, celebrating the natural resources of the forest, welcomed more than 700 visitors on July 31. Activities included guided hikes and auto tours of the forest resources, special guests, an evening musical concert, children's activities, and an appearance by Smokey the

Besides the live animal programs, other programs included snowshoe workshops, guest speakers, evening programs in the campground and logging museum, and guided bicycle tours of the history in the park.

Hartwick Pines hosted over 100 school groups and special tours, in addition to the park's regular schedule of guided hikes and tours.

Park staff members continue to be involved in the community. Ann Stephens, the park interpreter, was a member of the group that developed the interpretive trail for the Beal Plantation and attended the dedication of the site

The park also participated in this year's AuSable River Canoe Marathon parade with a float entitled "Reforesting for the Future/A Century of Conservation." Other improvements in 1999 included new signs for way-finding and interpretation, the addition of a wheelchair ramp at the logging museum, and a new septic field in the campground.

Next year will see continued additions to the interpretive programs, site specific campground reservations, and better websites for the park and museum.

The Grayling Area Visitors Council (GAVC) markets Grayling and Crawford County to bring visitors to the area.

The GAVC Board of Directors is as follows: President: Dave Sabin, Aquarama Motel; Vice-President, Dean Smith, Holiday Inn; Treasurer, Judy Craft, North Country Lodge; Secretary, Cheryl Hunter, Borcher's Bed and Breakfast; Board Members: Jim Humes, Penrod's Resort; and Les Fouch, River Country Motor Lodge.

Mercy Hospital

"The past year has brought much change and many challenges to Mercy North - Grayling. However, we have continued to provide high quality, mission driven care throughout our five county area while focusing special effort on the continued development of primary/ambulatory care, regional and community partnerships, and outreach efforts We have worked diligently to reduce expenses and operate more efficiently to carry our organization successfully into the future," said Stephanie Riemer-Matuzak, pursuant to the release of Mercy's annual report to the community in November.

"Accomplishments this year have included:

- Continued efforts to partner with Munson Healthcare working toward efficiencies, reducing expenses, and to improve overall service provided to our patients throughout Northern Michigan.
- Letter writing campaign pursuant to the Balanced Budget Act (BBA). The BBA has caused significant challenges for all hospital systems. In addition to a legislative letter writing campaign from our employees, physicians, volunteers and community, we hosted a forum to provide further education to Congressmen Dave Camp and Bill Thomas regarding some specific challenges that the BBA has caused for small, rural hospitals and other health care providers in northern Michigan.

- A Medical Advisory Panel was created to further develop our major strategies to take us into the
- Our Capital Campaign has resulted in pledges and donations of over $350,000 which will allow us to purchase additional state of the art equipment. We are grateful for the support of the communities we serve.
- Community Partnerships: We have participated in many collaborative bodies and organizations throughout our service area. Through our Strategic Initiative for the Poor program, we provided $49,408 in grant monies to support programs in our community. We sponsored the Mercy Hospital Ausable River 10K Run for our 20th and final year. We are hoping that another organization will step forward to take this event into the future.

Camp Grayling

A few of Camp Grayling's 1999 highlights include:

• Troop strength: The highest priority for Camp Grayling is providing the necessary assets (land, equipment/devices, and support personnel) for realistic training of wartime skills. The number of soldiers hosted for the two-week Annual Training (AT) periods increased from the AT '98 level. The number of soldier training mandays in fiscal year '99 were: 49,966 for weekend training (IDT) and 117,565 for AT. Projections for 2000 indicate an increase in both AT and IDT.

 Oklahoma AT '99: The Oklahoma Army National Guard's 45th Field Artillery Brigade conducted two back-toback AT periods at Camp Grayling starting Memorial Day weekend, with a second rotation coming in June. The 45th served in the Gulf War, and holds the U.S. Army distinction of delivering the highest number of rounds onto Iraqi targets during the war.

- Training events: Shortly after completing their weekend training exercise at Camp Gravling's Range 40, the 110th Fighter Wing, Michigan Air National Guard, was mobilized from Battle Creek to Kosovo on May 17, 1999. The 110th flies the A-10 Thunderbolt II, which is a common sight over Range 40. Their training here helped them hone their skills for the Presidential Call-Up. After a brief in-country processing, the A-10's were engaging Serbia targets in Kosovo.
- Environmental impact: For the fourth year in a row, Camp Grayling has received an environmental award. This year Camp Grayling Commander Col. Gary J. McConnell accepted the Huron Pines RC&D Area Council's Certificate of Commendation, "In recognition of support for the M-72/ Manistee River dry hydrant and support for the Michigan Timber Bridge Initiative by the construction of Tank Trail Bridges #1 and #2 over the East Branch of the AuSable River in Camp

Also, Camp Grayling joined with other environment-focused groups in conducting Adopt-A-Forest Day within the boundaries of Camp Grayling. In May, 1999, Camp Grayling state and federal workers joined forces to recon forest areas and remove illegally dumped trash.

• Community Impact: The Economic Impact Assessment reveals Camp Grayling's contribution to the local economy exceeded $26 million in 1998. Salary and wages made up the major expenditure at $13.5 million, with 176 employed full time personnel and 887 part time jobs. $10.6 million relates to contracts, rental agreements, construction costs, and research and development project expenditures. The balance ($2.5 million) reflects personnel expenditures by soldiers, airmen, SeaBees, Marines, and Canadians training at Camp Grayling.

 Grayling Army Air Field: The Grayling Army Air Field, the only airport in Crawford County, continues to serve civilian air traffic under the agreement of the Bureau of Aeronautics and Department of Military Affairs.

 Dud Awareness: The 745th Ordnance Disposal Detachment (Explosive Ordnance Disposal or EOD) conducted Dud Awareness training at local schools in 1999, as in many past years, in an effort to educate local youth on good safety practices and what to do if they encounter an item they think may be dud ordnance. The 745th brought training dud munitions for identification and set up a training course in the nearby woods for a practical exercise.

• EOD to Panama: Camp Grayling's 745th Ordnance Disposal Detachment (EOD) deployed to Panama in February to participate in the final phase of range clearing operations prior to the return of the Panama Canal Zone to the Panamanian govern-

• Loomis Battery Competition: The 9th Annual Loomis Battery competition was held on Range 10 at Camp Grayling in July. This primarily Civil War re-enactors group provides a unique opportunity for the public to view a bygone era with weapon firing competition in cannons, mortars and civil war rifles. Camp Grayling is one of the few sites in the country where they can fire their cannons at Civil War distances.

• Law Enforcement Training: Numerous local, county, state and federal law enforcement agencies continue to utilize Camp Grayling. Plans are currently in motion to develop a Regional Police Training facility in the 600 Area of Camp Grayling, which would include a drive course, training classrooms, and easy access to ranges.

District Health Dept. No. 10

Department No. 10 in Grayling continues to promote and enhance the health of individuals in Crawford County through education, prevention, intervention, and the protection of the environment.

For over a decade the health department has provided Maternal Support Services (MSS) and Infant Support Services (ISS) to eligible women and infants. The MSS program assists women in having a healthy pregnancy and baby by providing home visits to women at the start of pregnancy through two months after deliv-

Home visits are made by a social worker, nurse, or dietician and focus on a variety of healthrelated topics. The ISS program continues to support a new or growing family by providing home visits as needed from birth to one-vear-old.

> Breast and cervical cancer screening services are now available to women who qualify between the ages of 40-64. The health department has a Women's Health Nurse Practitioner who will conduct a choical breast exam, pap smear and pelvic exam. The women are then scheduled for a mammogram at the hospital. All of these services are free of charge.

> DHD No. 10 is pleased to provide public health training to nursing students from Kirtland Community College, Nursing students observe a wide range of public health services from immunization clinics to environmental site visits. Every semester, approximately eight to 12 student nurses participate in this program.

> The Kiwanis Club of Gravling is in its second year of providing books to children who are immunized. Health department nurses are thrilled to be able to put a smile on the face of a child, courtesy of Kiwanis. Nearly 200 books have been given to children in Crawford County since the program's inception.

Another group working hand in hand with the health department is RSVP. These wonderful seniors knit hats, mittens and blankets that can be taken off the DHD No. 10 Christmas tree during the holidays. During the remainder of the year, items are given to newborns and children through the MSS and ISS programs.

These are just a few of the many services that DHD No. 10 is proud to offer the community of Crawford County.

A few of our other services include: premarital education, quit smoking classes, cholesterol screenings, women, infant children (WIC) and environmental health. For more information call 348-7800.

Kirtland Community College

Kirtland enjoyed a year of significant exploration, change and achievement. "It has been an exciting year, with many accomplishments" said Interim President Richard Silverman. "We conducted a community survey throughout our district to measure how residents felt about the College and its programs; after completing an exhaustive two-year self-study process, we were awarded official accreditation by the North Central Association; we re-opened the Volunteer Center; our Board of Trustees elected new members and officers: we hired a new director of the Kirtland Center for the Performing Arts; we began writing a history of the College; and, we completed a $7.2 million building program adding 50,000 square feet of new classroom and laboratory space to the campus."

Dorothy N. Franke retired in October, 1999 after ten years of outstanding service to the College as President. Some of the achievements in 1999 under her leadership included:

 receipt of a $4.1 million grant from the Michigan Economic Development Corporation to build a technical training center (M-TEC) in Otsego County to serve the technical education needs of northern Michigan...construction on the new 29,000 sq.ft. facility is expected to begin June 30, 2000 and be opened in early 2001:

 the continuance of Kirtland's global awareness program and the completion of exchange visits with Beijing Union University;

 the receipt of substantial grants for technical training scholarships from the Commission;

• a new sports program, started with men's and women's basketball teams (The Firebirds);

• the annual Kirtland's Warbler Festival which enjoyed its largest crowds to date;

the establishment of a Kirtland alumni association;

• Kirtland becoming one of the first colleges to join the Michigan

Community College Virtual Learning Collaborative which allows students to take on-line credit courses directly from other participating community colleges; Kirtland's Associate degree Medical Assistant program being accredited by the Commission on

Accreditation of Allied Health

Education Programs; • three classes graduated from the Kirtland Regional Police Academy;

• for yet another year Kirtland's nursing graduates leading the state and national pass-rates on examinations.

Next year the College plans a new marketing program; it will begin construction on the new M-TEC in Gaylord; it will hire a new president; it will strive to increase efficiency by finding ways to maximize its human and fiscal resources; and, it will maintain as its mission the commitment to improve the quality of life in the Kirtland region by providing educational programs and services of

Habitat for Humanity

"The sacrifice I thought I would - Another was to help county resibe making turned out to be one of the greatest blessings of my life." -Jimmy Carter

Carter, a longtime Habitat for Humanity supporter, found the satisfaction that comes from helping others achieve the American dream: a home of their own. That a report; two families are now same spirit is alive here in northern Michigan.

Habitat for Humanity International was founded in 1976. Its mission is to provide decent, affordable, safe housing. By using tax-deductible donations and volunteer labor, families that only had a dream can afford their own home.

The Crawford County Habitat affiliate built its first house in 1997. A second home was added

At the beginning of 1999, the Crawford County Habitat board set several goals. One was to construct two additional houses. dents be more informed about Habitat's work. The year brought several milestones:

· For the first time in one year, Habitat has built two homes for Crawford County residents. This is more personal than numbers on making their own mortgage payments and shoveling their own sidewalks because of the generosity and volunteer labor of many individuals and businesses. The Grayling High School Building Trades class deserves special recognition for its help in making this possible.

 Sister Naomi Holysko became the group's first executive director. She carries on the day to day operations, including securing sources of financing, coordinating volunteers, and directing inquiries to the proper committees. She is the voice you hear on the other end of the phone when

· The board increased its numbers to encompass a broader spectrum of the county population, increasing Habitat's exposure within the county. More churches and civic organizations now have a connection with Habitat. Mercy Hospital has provided a room for the board to hold monthly meet-

· Habitat has a new office located at 702 Peninsular Avenue next to Saint Mary's Church. Day to day tasks, such as this year's six local fundraisers, are now carried out more efficiently. The increased visibility in the community has also made it easier for individuals to volunteer.

Lake Margrethe Property Owners

The Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association (LMPOA) was formed 31 years ago with the objective to preserve and protect the natural beauty of Lake Margrethe and the surrounding area, to enhance the great natural resources and recreational facilities, to support an orderly development of the water and land area, and to promote the interest, rights and safety of property owners in the area.

Membership is open to all persons owning property located between the shores of Lake Margrethe and state or federal land. At the present time, we have 310 families in our association.

1999 activities included sail boat regattas, AuSable River Festival Parade, water testing, lake clarity readings, water level control, zebra mussel testing, Big Tree and Christmas decoration contests. membership meetings, publishing the "RIPPLES," and our major event, the July boat parade.

Tom and Jan Hunt plus Ron and Cindy Herron hosted the July 3 Boat Parade and Party, which included 100 boats and 300-400 people. A great time was had by

The Lake Margrethe Storm Water, Sedimentation and Road End Erosion Inventory study, sponsored by a partnership between LMPOA, Huron Pines Resource Conservation and Development Council, Road Commission for Crawford County, and Grayling Township, was completed in September. Seventeen sites were studied. The survey synopsis found that Summet, West Lincoln Park Avenue, Walnut Plaisance and McIntyre's Landing had high public use and erosion severity.

Thanks to the efforts of Grayling Township and the Crawford for Commission County, Summet Avenue was improved. Rip-rap was installed along the shoreline, a small boat launch pad was rebuilt, the road was crowned with gullies on each side to deflect/divert ground water, and grass was planted on the sides to control erosion.

Next year's projects include improvements at West Lincoln Park/Walnut Plaisance, new culverts at Portage Creek, and increased water testing along the shoreline.

The Lake Margrethe Foundation was formed on October 21, 1998, and is part of the North Central Michigan Community Foundation. The Foundation will look at long range plans to preserve and protect the lake for future generations. A new lake study will be started in 2000, as well as work on a 100-year Lake Margrethe history book.

4-H

This has been a busy year for Crawford County 4-Hers. We had a total of 1,099 youth involved in 4-H projects, both in-school and out of school. We also had 53 wonderful volunteers who helped make this a successful year.

Our archery club had a great year, thanks to the expert instruction of the leaders at the Bears Bowman Club.

Tee-ball players formed six teams of kindergarten and first graders, and junior tee-ball played on four teams of pre-schoolers. The swim clubs got a late start, but once they got into the water, they learned lots about splashing, and swimming.

A new TaeKwonDo club was pants had such a good time that they signed up for a second set of sessions. Babysitting classes were held two times this year, and these boys and girls are ready to begin.

In-school programs are growing as well. Our egg incubators hatched baby chicks at Frederic Elementary and AuSable Primary Schools. Character education classes were held at Frederic Elementary and Grayling Middle School, which focused on trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and citizenship.

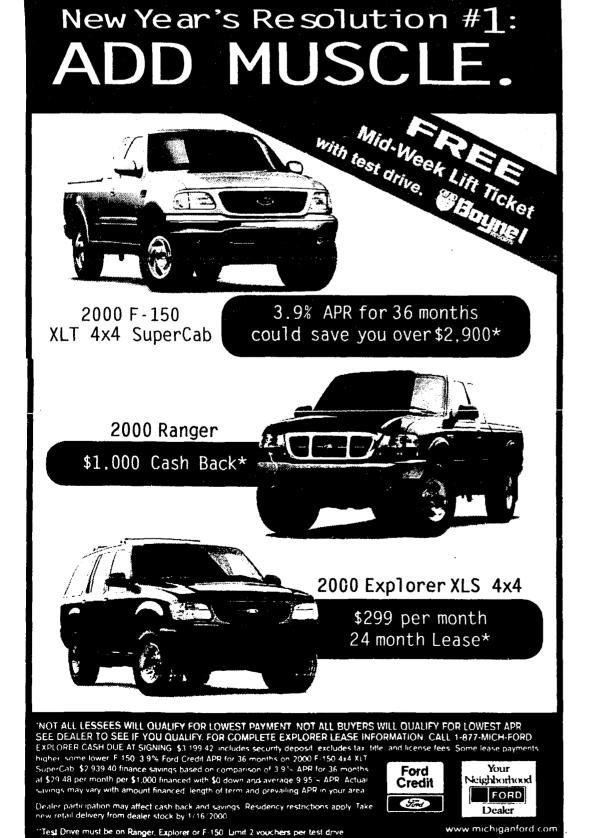

This summer was very busy. We started in June with 16 teens going to Michigan State University to attend Exploration Days. While we were at MSU, the Youth of the courthouse, and see what formed, and many of the partici- Conservation School began. We worked with the George Mason Chapter of Trout Unlimited to provide this two-week day camp.

In July, one youth went with the Michigan delegation to the Citizenship Washington Focus in Washington D.C. Then it was fair time at the Crawford County Fairgrounds. There were some great exhibits there, and many youths received blue ribbons for their entries.

This is only a small part of what is happening at the Michigan State University Extension Office. We have a Family Nutrition Program, Forestry Education, and more resources than you can imagine.

Please stop by in the basement we have that's of interest to you.

North Central CMH

For North Central Community Mental Health (CMH), 1999 marked the first full year of a two-"Specialized Services Contract" with the Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH). The change to the current shared risk (managed care) contract has been positive. New clinical services were implemented and the agency built capacity not possible with the previous feefor-service model.

North Central CMH and the six other Community Mental Health Services Programs that serve the 21 northern Michigan counties continued to build their affiliation, called Northern Mental Health Management. This affiliation was formed in response to the state's plan to change how public behavioral health services are managed by introducing competitive bidding and full risk contracting.

According to CEO Greg Paffhouse, "It is our goal to make the changes necessary to 'win the bid' in a way that maintains the current safety net, existing community benefit, and local control and accountability to the maximum degree possible."

He adds that member agencies are committed to providing good managed care that "is locally managed, consumer-driven, sensitive to local needs improves access, improves outcomes and controls cost... to provide the right service, to the right person, at the right time."

To that end, the agency formed a consumer advisory council, named consumers to its board, and extensively surveyed consumers to ensure that service quality remains high and consumer expectations are met.

"Measuring and improving quality based upon outcome measures and consumer satisfaction has been a key focus. Most participants were positive and thankful for the quality of services and the genuine caring and concern of staff," says Paffhouse. "It's especially gratifying to receive this response from those we serve."

Also the agency underwent considerable examination of its policies and procedures via visitations by independent evaluators, to ensure that programs and services meet current state-of-the-art standards and are continually improv-

Programmatically, North Central CMH was praised for its home-based services, ACT, Club Cadillac, Day Programs, Personal Programs, Inpatient Programs, Respite, and Family Support, among others. Outside evaluators were especially complimentary about the agency's efforts to involve consumers in their treatment through "person-centered planning," which includes consumers in decision-making and fosters their individual strengths. In addition, NOC Industries named North Central CMH its

'agency of the year." With offices in Grayling, Houghton Lake and Cadillac, last year NCCMH served 2,368 people with severe/persistent mental illness and developmental disabilities and 1,094 people in crisis in Crawford, Wexford, Roscommon and Missaukee counties.

The second floor is divided into many rooms, each depicting a different facet of the early days in Grayling. Included are an old time doctor's office, school room, saloon, and dry goods store. A special display of Fred Bear mem-

In addition to the museum complex operation, the historical society sponsors an annual "Heritage Day" celebration in late August. On Heritage Day craftsmen, in their finest period dress, show off their traditional skills as onlookers are swept back to a simpler but harder way of life. More than 300 visitors toured the complex and enjoyed the displays in 1999. The highlight of the day was the frequent appearance of the U.S. President and First Lady Abraham and Mary Todd Lincoln. The Lincolns strolled the grounds greeting citizens and Mr. Lincoln inspired the crowd with his Inaugural and Gettysburg

The historical society has been an integral part of the local community since its founding in 1972, the year of the Grayling centennial celebration. All persons are invited to visit, and donations of local historical interest are always welcomed.

The museum complex was again Memorial Day and Labor Day. It is also open for special days and can

Multipurpose Trails Committee

Multipurpose, non-motorized trails and pathways joining destinations and points-of-interest throughout the county are nearly non-existent, but will soon be springing up due to the hard work of a committee of dedicated leaders. The groundwork was laid for an extensive network of trails in

A coalition of concerned private citizens, service organizations, local and state governments, schools, and busines es have been working for those than a year to make the dream a reality.

The core group, a sub-committee of the Crawford County Parks Recreation Committee, achieved its first success when, in May, it was named a recipient of a Michigan Department Transportation Enhancement Grant of $594,000 to construct a path leading from Hanson Hills Recreation Area to M-72, and another leading from the M-72/I-75 Business Loop intersection to Grayling High School.

Additionally, the grant will fund engineering plans for a future continuation path leading from the high school to Hartwick Pines State Park.

The sub-committee members spent hundreds of hours determining the needs of the local public, and the needs of future visitors in the program of recreational and alternative transportation pathways. Each step was documented and a master plan was developed and adopted by the County Board of Commissioners

The grant application that went to MDOT was a professionally designed, written, and printed document. Many follow-up meetings with MDOT representatives were held to keep the Crawford County project in the forefront of their minds.

The competition for grant money was very stiff, but when the dollars were granted, only one other grant in northern Michigan was larger. One determining factor in the favor of the Crawford County grant was the wholehearted cooperation of the community and the large sums of money which were pledged as matching

The final goal of the group is to link destinations and points of interest from Frederic and Hartwick Pines State Park in the north to Higgins Lake State Park in the south, and from the former Rayburn property in the east to the Lake Margrethe State Forest Campground and Camp Grayling

Please feel free to stop by and

Time and again, sub-committee members were told that MDOT officials look very favorably on community support and matching

More recently, members of the sub-committee completed and submitted a second enhancement grant application. A third application will be submitted next year, and a fourth the following year.

R.O.O.C., Inc.

R.O.O.C., Inc. is a community rehabilitation organization gov-C.O.O.R. bv the erned Intermediate School District Board of Education. The letters in our name represent the counties we typically provide services in: Crawford, Ogemaw, Oscoda, and Roscommon. R.O.O.C.'s mission is to ensure all individuals with disabilities receive comprehensive, efficient, and integrated community employment choices and services that maximize individual independence.

In an effort to continue to enhance and prioritize community employment services, 70 percent of all R.O.O.C. staff participated in an intensive one-week professional development activity entitled Employment Training Specialist (ETS) training through Michigan State University. Each individual received certification in this area through MSU. We plan to train the remaining staff in the year 2000.

In June, R.O.O.C. applied for a grant from the Michigan Department of Career Development/Rehabilitation Services to provide additional employment opportunities within our communities. The grant was written in association with North Central Community Mental Health, the C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District, and Michigan Rehabilitation Services. The grant was awarded and services were initiated on October 1. The period of the grant extends from October 1, 1999 to September 30, 2000.

Following a successful accreditation survey by CARF The Rehabilitation Accreditation Commission in 1998, Greg Bush, Executive Director of R.O.O.C., was invited to be trained as a survevor for CARF. Bush attended the surveyor training in August 1999, in Tucson, Arizona and joined the cadre of 1,000 CARF surveyors in the United States, Canada, and Sweden.

The week of October 10-16 marked Investing in Ability Week (IAW). IAW began in Michigan in 1998 as a means of making employers aware of the skills that individuals with disabilities possess, and that employment of these individuals makes good business sense.

During this week, R.O.O.C. conducted a donut drive. Literally, staff and consumers drove to each business actively involved with the community employment services program and presented them a dozen

At the close of each year, R.O.O.C. via the C.O.O.R. ISD Board of Education, selects an individual to receive the Ralph Sperry Memorial Award. This award is given to an individual for his commitment in working with, supporting, and/or promoting the community integration of individuals with disabilities. For 1999, Dean Smith of the Holiday Inn of Grayling was selected as the recipient of the award. Smith has provided employment opportunities to individuals with developmental disabilities for several

Red Cross

The American Red Cross Northern Lower Michigan Chapter was formed in February of 1997. The Northern Lower Michigan Chapter consists of 12 counties, providing Red Cross services to those residents in need.

The 12 counties include: Alcona, Alpena, Antrim, Charlevoix, Crawford, Emmet, Montmorency, Roscommon, Oscoda, Presque Isle, and Roscommon.

The Chapter is broken into three Service Centers, which oversee services in four counties each. Crawford, along with Otsego, Oscoda, and Roscommon counties, are serviced by the Gaylord Service Center.

Crawford County has experienced many exciting changes and events within its last year, as well as the loss of a long time Red Cross member:

• Red Cross Disaster Assistance was given to numerous families during the year. 1998 ended with a multi-car pile-up, which necessitated the Chapter opening a shelter for the survivors of the ordeal. The Red Cross responded to numerous fire calls, providing food and beverages to local fire fighters. Additionally, 15 residents of the county were assisted in the form of food, clothing and shelter due to their homes being ravaged by fire.

• Health and Education grew to a total of 27 CPR and First Aid classes offered, and 322 certificates were issued to individuals that will be prepared to respond in case of emergency.

• The Red Cross received 22 cases for Armed Forces Emergency Services. These emergency military communications provide the link between family members and their loved ones in the Armed Forces. Factual information is gathered and passed to the military, such as notification of illness, death, birth, or health and welfare for the military's determination of leave, etc.

Crawford County for more than

• On a sad note, 1999 marked the loss of a long time Red Cross volunteer. Harrison Goodhue was a name that was synonymous with the Red Cross for so many years. His dedication and support will be greatly missed.

· Several new volunteers have joined the Red Cross in Crawford County. They serve in all capacities of the Red Cross mission, including volunteer office staff. The local office is located at 2370 S. #### For The Week Of January 2-8

Aries March 21-April 20

You made a new year's resolution to get in better shape. Visit the gym before you go back on your vow. and join a group or class to help you. Whether it's losing weight or just shaping up, you cannot do it without a professional's help.

Taurus April 21-May 21

Take time to call a family member midweek. He/she felt left out at some of the holiday celebrations and is still feeling low. It's up to you to be the family peacemaker and work things out. You may be in for a big surprise at work later this week.

Gemini May 22-June 21

The new year means a new chance for a relationship that's struggling along. First and foremost, you need to commit yourself to devoting more time to the other person. He/she has to come before work and family for once.

Cancer June 22-July 22

This might just be the week to spend those gift certificates you received as holiday gifts. A little could go a long way with the right shopping attitude. A coworker may be depending a little too much on your advice. Watch what you say.

Leo July 23-August 23

You may experience difficulty dealing with a person in authority this week. Take a step back. It is important you don't let the problem grow into a confrontation, which could freeze a promotion or hinder progress you've made.

August 24-September 22

Let the answering machine screen your calls early this week. Someone you don't really want to talk to might get the urge to call. A "friend" may approach you about a 'sure thing" investment. It may not be all it seems, so stay clear of it.

Libra

September 23-October 23

It's time to take steps to get rid of a bad habit. Whether it's going overboard on shopping, drinking or gambling, you need to break the habit. For you, that could mean staying away from the group of people you have been socializing with.

October 24-November 22

Don't buy into a story going around work this week. What you are hearing may seem to be true, but most likely, it's way off the mark. Don't get caught in the middle of warring factions, which could only create problems for you.

Sagittarius November 23-December 21

Look to an old and trusted friend for some solutions to problems that have cropped up. Your family is feeling a little neglected. After all, you spent most of the holidays with friends. Maybe you should spend some time with the family.

Capricorn December 22-January 20

An old friend may sail into town this week. Whatever you do, don't buy into your friend's new positive attitude. It may be covering up a deep-seeded problem. Talk to your partner about the minor problems cropping up in your relationship.

Aquarius

January 21–February 18

This is the perfect week to take a more active approach to solving a problem. It's been dragging on way too long. The worst thing is your worrying-it is starting to play havoc on some of your longstanding relationships.

Pisces February 19-March 20

Try to put a positive spin on a family problem. Others may follow your example, and you may end up solving the problem inadvertently. Vehicle maintenance hasn't been high on your list of priorities. Take care of it now.

There's no better way to do that than advertising in the newspaper.

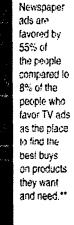

On an average weekday, 78.2 million adults read the newspaper; on an average Sunday, 91 million do.*

People choose to read a newspaper; they set aside time to concentrate on what it says. That means they set aside time for the advertisers, too. That's just one area where newspaper advertising differs from TV advertisements.

Get your message to your buyers advertise in the newspaper!

TV ads usually don't get the full attention of viewers; in fact, they are viewed negatively as an intrusion. Many of them are missed altogether because people use the commercial breaks to do other things.
